SALT RIVER VALLEY.

This granary of Arizona is fast becoming settled by an industrious, intelligent people who have wisely selected for themselves a memorandum of developments made in lation of thousands of happy people whose Tip-top Company, in Humbug district, homes are made pleasant by the presence | of those little ornamental appendages which are as a general thing essential to fill a Flake, a shaft 140 feet; on the Silver Flake, a shaft 100 feet; on the Kit Carson, space which would otherwise be vacant a shaft 78 feet; on the Poland, a tunnel and leave a spell of lonesome desolation run 100 feet; and on the Gopher, rwhich around the attractive home. The large renders must be familiar. In going from river that passes through the alluvial lands Big Bug to the Peck mine, (where 10 of the valley and empties into the Gila, and months since I followed an indistinct and it into the Colorado, and is finally lost in rugged trail; I traveled over a wagen road the waters of the pacific, furnishes an lined with teams, and on my way arrived at abundance of water for the irrigation of the Alexandra (where two years and I camped entire valley, and thus thousands of people under a ledge of rocks), I found a city with who are looking westward for homes cannot stores, botels, saloons, and accommodations Jo better them grasp the golden opport for both man and beast. A large force is tunity offered in the Eden of the West. Here employed in the Peck mine, and the Cancan be raised the orange and the olive ; here the lillie is made to bloom; the sugarcane grows equally rank with that of the and being enclosed, and the machinery great Mississippi valley; tobacco flourishes, nearly all in place. Mr. Mee, who has unsurpassed in the States adapted to its charge of this branch of the enterprise, said culture in the South: in fact, we know, from actual experience, that no country surpasses or even equals the Salt River Valley, taking into consideration climate and the varied advantages it presents, in which to select homes and grow up with the country. Good mills are scattered here and there at convenient distances, which make the manufacture of wheat into flour an easy matter. Mines of untold richness and magnitude are being discovered in almost every direction from this great agricultural district. Hardy miners are required to open these of sulphuret spangled with native silver. vaults of untold wealth, others are required to manipulate the machinery which is necessary for the reduction of the metallic ores, and to Salt River must we all look for the essential article of food, flour, the staff Alexandra, not over five miles distant. This of life. If grain should become too plentiful (of which there is but little danger), the tiller of the soil can turn his attention to the cultivation of sugar-case and cotton. It will be but a short time before the shrill whistle of the locomotive will be heard as the iron horse goes plunging on, reminding the worthy pioneers, who settle the frontier and redeem it from the savage foe, that they are living in a time of progress, and that the choice of selecting and adapting Arizona as a place to live and rear the coming generation, which will take the place of the present, was judicious and wise.
